About Our School

At ESF Beacon Hill School, we are a happy, diverse and inclusive community, where everybody has the confidence to be the best they can be. Our approach is all about personalised learning and sparking natural curiosity in children. If you are looking for a community-minded primary school, where children are at the centre of what we do, this is the place to be.

We know that all children are unique, and learn and thrive in many different ways. Our flexible learning environment encourages them to go at their own pace, find their passions, and hone their skills. Our high-quality education follows the International Baccalaureate (IB) curriculum. For the primary years, this means using the fantastic IB Primary Years Programme (PYP), which lets students learn through playful inquiry.

Our experienced teachers make sure that learning happens all the time, finding creative ways to make lessons fun and personalised. The classrooms are designed to be flexible spaces, and in the upper years, students can even choose where they would like to sit, with different configurations so that everyone can learn in the environment they prefer, while still being part of the class.

Our other shared spaces encourage learning as well. Students enjoy exploring and researching in our incredible library, with its vast array of books, and inspiring quotes on the wall from Winston Churchill to Dr Seuss. The Black Box Theatre is an inviting place for the expressive arts, and at The Cloud, we use design thinking to solve problems, with projects in coding, 3D printing and robotics. We also have a dedicated music room, visual arts space and lots of other facilities, making it difficult to pick just one extracurricular activity.

When you join Beacon Hill, you don't just join a school, you join the Beacon Hill School family, which is why we say, Once a Beacon Hill-er, always a Beacon Hill-er. We look forward to supporting your child to flourish and providing them with an exceptional learning experience.
