About Our School

At ESF Kowloon Junior School, we provide an outstanding education. We do this by recognising that every child is unique, and we work hard to support your child in developing their own skills, passions and dreams. That is how we make good on our mission to ensure our children become kind, happy and engaged, and always learning.

At our school, we follow the prestigious International Baccalaureate (IB) curriculum. Children follow the IB's Primary Years Programme (PYP), which has an innovative approach to learning involving questioning, exploring, investigating and experimenting. The PYP provides a seamless transition to the higher levels of the IB curriculum, all the way through to the diploma programmes which are offered at ESF's secondary schools.

First and foremost, your child will always be learning at Kowloon Junior School, but we understand that not all learning takes place in the classroom. It is the other experiences, alongside the outstanding education, that adds so much to the ESF experience. We have a bright and spacious library which houses a variety of books and resources. The dance studio, music suite, specialist creative arts area and multimedia room let students express their creativity.

Parents are an integral part of Kowloon Junior School. Not only will we always keep you informed, we will encourage you to become involved as well. We meet with parents throughout the year and provide reports and portfolios to showcase your child's progress and achievement. We begin with "You tell us" conferences, where you can discuss with our teachers your child's strengths, needs, interests and other things that make them happy.

At Kowloon Junior School, we would love for you to join us as we learn and celebrate together, preparing our students for outstanding success in their education and in their life.
